LOCAL NEWS.

Go to Caskey & Pieratt for the finest and best food in town.

Love thy neighbor as thyself, and let us have no religious strife.

No work turned out at C. H. Perry's photograph gallery but the best.

C. H. Perry's photograph gallery will remain at Hazel Green only 10 days.

Buy your saddlery, points, oil, window glass, nails, etc., of Caskey & Pieratt.

Breen's Liniment removes knots and all enlargements on horses or other stock. No cure no pay. Sold by J. T. & F. Day.

Uncle Harry and Aunt Nancy Swango, of Swango Spring, will please accept our thanks for a basket of delicious apples.

If you are not well pleased with the pictures C. H. Perry makes for you, don't be afraid to say you do not like them.

Rev. E. P. Mickel preached at Frenchburg last Sunday, and went from there to Mt. Sterling to attend Synod, which meets there to-morrow night.

Breen's Liniment is pronounced by all who have used it to be the greatest remedy for rheumatism, sprains, cuts, bruises, etc. Sold by J. T. & F. Day.

Miss Rosa Trimble, of this place, on Friday last sent us a box of the finest grapes we have seen this season, for which she will please accept the thanks of ourself and wife.

Mrs. N. B. Hays, of this place, now at Lexington, had the misfortune a few days since to lose all of her wearing apparel, at least all of that part of it known as wash goods. Some sneaky thief is supposed to have got away with it.

John C. M. Day, A. F. Lyon and Miss Emeline Toulson, of the Presbyterian church at this place, have suggested their membership to the "Church in the Wilderness" the new church recently established at the Mouth of Frozen Creek, Breathitt county.

As Rev. D. H. Fallen's time will soon expire as pastor of the Christian Church at this place, it has been suggested that Rev. J. T. Pieratt become his successor. Inasmuch as everybody likes him, they think he will help the church much, and do more towards filling Bro. Fallen's place than any other man.

W. J. Wallace, of Stillwater, on last Friday brought to this office the greatest curiosity in the way of corn ever seen. It is a species of pop-corn, and the two stalks at this office contain 27 ears. If any of our short-horned blue-grass farmers can beat it, we would like to hear them breathe.

When you go to Frenchburg, or pass through there and feel hungry, stop at the Greenwald Hotel, kept by Dr. Geo. W. Moore, and your hunger will be appeased. Doc. is a clever gentleman and a first-class landlord, and having recently taken unto himself a charming wife, is on good terms with all mankind.

The most remarkable tree known in all Eastern Kentucky is the great scrub oak which stands on the farm of Harrison Swango, and near the celebrated Swango Spring. It is 28 feet 10 inches in height, 60 feet in diameter—180 feet in circumference—and is well known by people passing for the immense shade it affords "the weary and heavy laden."

Rev. W. L. Stauffer, "The Bascom of the Mountains," who was such a favorite here last year, but who is now stationed at Vanceburg, is home on a visit to his family and friends. He likes his new place quite well, though as yet the people are comparative strangers. He will preach for us on Sunday night, and he should have a big congregation. Let all turn out to hear him, as we will not perhaps have that privilege again soon.

While in Mt. Sterling recently we called to see Mrs. Kate O. Clark, the fashionable milliner, and were a little surprised to see such an immense display of fine bonnets, hats, etc. Mrs. Clark presents greater attractions this season than ever before, though her prices are much lower than for the same goods elsewhere. Lady, do you want a bonnet or hat? If so, do not fail to call upon Mrs. Clark, where you can get what you want for less money than you can anywhere.

To the great joy of our citizens the back from Rothwell arrived at this place on Monday about 4 o'clock. The train coming up from Mt. Sterling at 7 o'clock made this not only possible but a very easy matter, and our citizens would take it as a very great favor if trains were run out early enough to allow the stage to get here by 5 o'clock. Let us hope that Supt. Harper will see that it is to his interest to do so, and send her along. He will certainly do what he can to aid the hack line in making the trip, because he promised to do so when the hack was put on. The stage has greatly benefited the people of this section, and largely increased travel over the railroad since it started.

PERSONAL.

Willie Swango, of this place, attended court at Mt. Sterling last Monday.

Dr. F. M. Thomas spent several days in Lee county last week, but returned home on Saturday last.

Hon. D. S. Godsey left for Mt. Sterling last Saturday with a couple of fine horses for that market.

Hon. W. Q. Mize, of this place, left for Cincinnati last Saturday to buy furniture for his new house.

Mrs. R. J. Samuel, of this place, who has been quite ill for several weeks past, we are glad to state, is convalescing rapidly.

T. M. Ford, of Bourbon county, near Paris, is here drinking Swango water and hunting birds, and seems to enjoy the mountains.

Judge G. B. Swango is attending the Montgomery county court. He will also attend the Grand Lodge of Masons, at Louisville this week.

Miss Sue Godsey, who has been on a protracted visit to Whitesburg, in Letcher county, and Glendale, Va., returned home Saturday evening last.

Col. R. J. Samuel, who has been absent from Hazel Green for several weeks past in the interest of the Presbyterian Church, returned home last week.

H. C. Herndon and lady, of this place, left for Louisville yesterday morning. They are witnesses in the Al. Little trial, and will take in the exposition before their return.

J. Taylor Day, Floyd Day, and H. C. Herndon, of this place, who were witnesses in the Al. Little trial at Louisville, were discharged, and came home Thursday last, but left again yesterday.

John C. M. Day, the "mountain duke" and merchant prince of Frozen Creek, Breathitt county, returned from Louisville last Thursday, and is now supposed to be enjoying life under a paw-paw tree on the banks of the classic Kentucky.

Jacob Harris, with the firm of Levi, Newburger & Co., clothiers, Louisville, Ky., has a card in this paper to which your attention is respectfully invited, and you may want some clothing, and you must speak with Yawcob and he will sell you as never was.

Hon. Joseph M. Kash left for Jackson last Sunday, to attend circuit court which commenced at that place on Monday. Joe is a candidate for commonwealth's attorney in this district, and if any man thinks he can beat him we would like to have a line in that direction.

Judge Wm. Lusk, of this place, left for Jackson on Sunday to be in attendance at circuit court. No man knows the law better than Judge Lusk, and it is whispered about that he wants the circuit judgeship. If it be so, he will have the hardest man to down in the State. John E. Cooper can't be beat, and don't you fail to remember the handwriting on the wall.

Eastern Kentucky Civilization.

[Louisville Commercial.]

The careless assertion is made by the Louisville Post that many counties in Kentucky have neither school-houses nor churches, with the inference that the "lawlessness" of the mountain region especially is due to this cause. Official reports made to the State show that common school houses do exist in every county, usually in the same ratio to the population in the poorest as in the wealthiest counties. As for churches, a defender of Rowan county writes that every one of the thirty-two school-houses there is used more or less for religious purposes, the people being induced by motives of economy to put every building to as many uses as possible. Thus the absence of churches does not indicate always a lack of preachers or sermons. The State has been no respecter of counties in distributing its school fund. A district embracing a hundred pupil children is entitled to a certain sum, whether it be in Martin County or in Madison, in Fayette County or in Floyd. In truth, teaching a common school may be more profitable in the two poorest counties named than in the other two. There is this difference between the counties—that in some schools are desired as a means of education, while in others the money put into circulation by the school system is of chief importance. The poorest ten counties in the State pay an average of $748 yearly into the school fund, and draw from it an average of $2,599. It is this which makes common schools popular even where education is not desired.

All the counties have schools, but in no county are all the schools what they should be. The danger to the State from illiteracy in Louisville is greater to-day than at any time in its history. The Cumberland Mountains, although this city has the best schools in the State. More intelligence is a great need of Eastern Kentucky, and it is a need likewise of Central Kentucky and of Western Kentucky. There are some of the eastern counties where ignorance is denser, perhaps, than in any other part of the State, but there are few counties so fortunate as to be free from the same evils which afflict Letcher and Bell and Rowan. Our point is that there must be no sectionalism in dealing with the State's welfare. There is one people throughout Kentucky and one law, and its uniform enforcement is the first requisite for suppressing crime. One school system and one school policy must be depended upon to make the people of the State more intelligent and better fitted for peaceable citizenship. That policy must be such, on the part of the State, as will lead the people more generally to feel an interest in the education of the young—it must make the people more directly supporters of the schools, as they would become if the State fund were distributed most liberally to those districts which do the most, considering their means, to help themselves.

We protest against the habitual reference to the Kentucky mountaineers as an inferior race, which nature gave to the Bluegrass counties, and other advantages which the State, if it will, can give them. They have qualities, however, which will make them good citizens when they become less isolated from the world. Meanwhile, to hold them responsible for their lack of advancement is unjust and will not aid in their improvement. The sentiment of the people of the State-at-large and the policy of the State government will help or hinder the progress of the eastern counties. It is that sentiment and this policy may be just that we bespeak for the latter a fair hearing, and suggest that their good, as well as their bad, points should be recognized.

Miranda Huff, a little girl near Daysborough, writes: "I am a little mountain girl, 11 years of age. I never went to school but 12 weeks in life. I am going to school on Gillmore's Creek. I study my books well. I always have good lessons. Is there any little girl that has just went to school 12 weeks that can write as well as I? Please excuse my awkward spelling. If you can read this, I will write again."

BREATHITT COUNTY.

JACKSON, Oct. 15.—B. F. Jones and Simon Holland escaped from our jail on the 8th inst., by burning a hole through the ceiling and upper floor of their cell. Jones was charged with the murder of Lanville Hagins, of Knott county. He is of Virginia, and was sent here from Knott county for safe keeping. Holland was charged with stealing a horse, but he claims that it was his wife's.

The Court of Claims was in session three days this week. They fixed the salary of County Judge and County Attorney at $250 each. In the absence of the clerk, A. C. Baker acted as deputy.

A party of 20 of our young folks enjoyed chestnut hunting last Saturday on Stray Branch, a few miles above town. A happier company never bursted a chestnut burr.

Major Whitcomb, of Richmond, Va., and D. W. Voorhees, Jr., were in town Monday representing capitalists, accompanied by Ben Crawford.

Green Brother, of Hazel Green, has been employed to plaster the Presbyterian Church, and will commence the work Monday.

Dr. J. M. Kash, of Hazel Green, assisted by Dr. W. T. Wilson, removed a tumor from Mrs. Jack Barnett on Saturday last.

Ha, you Campion correspondent, tell us something of Carpenter, who was shot in your town sometime ago.

Reubin McQuinn and daughter, Isabella, were in town Wednesday last, and gave us a pleasant call.

J. B. Marcum, of Mt. Sterling, is visiting friends and relatives at this place.

Johnny Wilson made a flying visit to Hazel Green on last Monday evening.

Jackson Lovely, of Rousseau, was in town this week.

Died, Oct. 5th, Eliza Clay; aged 73 years.

LOST CREEK, Oct. 12.—Religious services are growing in grace in this portion of the mountains. Rev. Zack Fugate and Stephen Carpenter, of Quicksand, preached the funerals of Aunt Tilda Campbell, Coal Campbell and Granville Rollery, at the residence of Lewis Campbell, Oct. 8th. They had a splendid meeting. Uncle Lewis Campbell is getting very feeble. I suppose he is the oldest man in our county, and he is a good Christian man.

Prof. J. J. Dickey, of Jackson, preached to a well-behaved audience on the 11th inst. We are proud to have Bro. Dickey in our midst. We trust success will crown his pathway through his future life. Bro. Samuel Hager aided in the good work of the Lord. We were again, Sam. Praise the Lord for his goodness.

F. M. Day and Jerry Noble contemplate moving their large steam mill to Lost Creek in a few days. They have saved a large amount of lumber this fall.

It is said here that Hon. E. C. Strong will make the race for County Judge at our next August election. Is he makes the race he will be a hard man to beat.

Bud Landrum is running his calf mill and evaporator, it being the first that was ever brought to this part of the county.

The log men are quite busy collecting their logs for the spring tides.

A small girl of Jordan Combs got burned to death a few days since.

Times are very close here as to money matters.

MORGAN COUNTY.

WEST LIBERTY, Oct. 19.—T. E. Swimm, a 15-year-old son of T. J. Swimm, living near this place, had a bad spell of Western fever early in the fall, which grew worse till about three weeks ago, when he "arose and walked" to Fatterson Station, where he boarded a west-bound train and "lit out" for the land of big "lujus" and grasshoppers. Last week he wrote to the folks at home that he had located at Purdy, Barry county, Mo., and that he was well pleased with the country.

W. C. Kendall and wife, S. W. Cecil and wife, Misses Anna Kendall and Minnie Ward, of this place, and Mr. Ford of Louisville, visited the family of Ambrose Allen, on the North Fork, yesterday.

The latest news from Grassy is that Deputy Sheriff Sam Wheeler is thought to be improving very slowly. Wm. Havens is convalescing.

Seneca Swimm "stood off" for Hazel Green to-day, astride of the U. S. mail bags.

C. S. Hazelrigg contemplates going west and growing up with the country. XENOPHON.

MAYTOWN, Oct. 10.—Married.—On Thursday, the 8th inst., at 10 o'clock p. m., at the residence of the bride's father, William Norton, of Tazewell county, Va., to Miss Lizzie Claypole, Rev. John F. Wilson officiating. The high contracting parties have the best wishes of a host of friends in this community.

Rev. J. R. Kendall, our new preacher in charge of this mission, preached two able sermons here Sunday and Sunday night. The people here are well pleased with him as a minister.

R. A. Childers has just received an immense stock of boots and shoes from Baltimore, which he proposes to sell at rock bottom prices for cash.

We have more corn in this neighborhood than there has been for years.

LUCK SKILLER.

SCHOOL REPORT.

On reviewing the week's work, Friday 9th inst., it was found that the following pupils excelled in their respective studies: Primer, Newton Carson; 1st spelling class, Lizzie Nickel; 2d spelling class, Rosa Carson; 3d spelling class, Mary Lacy; 1st primary geography, Belle Carson; 2d primary geography, Ellsworth Lacy; Advanced geography, Grant Lacy; 1st reader, Scott Lacy; 2d reader, Rosa Carson; 3d reader, Joseph Bishop; 4th reader, Mary Lacy; primary arithmetic, Henry C. Lacy; elementary arithmetic, Monroe Lacy; intermediate arithmetic, Ellsworth Lacy; advanced arithmetic, Grant Lacy; grammar, Grant Lacy; physiology, Grant Lacy; U. S. history, Grant Lacy.

J. Z. HANEY, Teacher, dist. No. 27.

Wallace Gruelle has resigned his place as U. S. Deputy Marshal and has become associated with the Louisville Times. We congratulate Bro. Gruelle on his return to newspaper work. The Times will continue to grow.

Democratic County Meeting.

In pursuance to a call of the Chairman of the Democratic Committee of the 18th Judicial District of Kentucky, the Democrats of Wolfe county will meet in mass convention in the court-house in the town of Campton, on Thursday, November 21st, 1885, at 12 o'clock M., for the purpose of selecting delegates to represent Wolfe county in the District Convention to be held at Hazel Green, on the 27th day of November, 1885, to nominate a candidate for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney of the 13th Judicial District, to be voted for at the August election, 1886.

JOSEPH C. LYKINS, Chairman County Committee.

ISAAC ELKINS, Sec'y.

The democratic county committee are especially requested to meet me in the court-house in the town of Campton, on Friday, October 23rd, 1885, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of settling upon a plan of ascertaining the choice of the democrats of Wolfe county, between J. M. Kash and L. M. Day, in the race for Commonwealth's Attorney. A full attendance of the members of the committee is respectfully solicited.

JOSEPH C. LYKINS, Chairman county committee.

ISAAC ELKINS, Sec'y.

Complimentary.

The Sentinel-Democrat of last week, has the following complimentary notice of our fellow-townsmen, every word of which we endorse. Aye, we'll say more. If elected, Mr. Kash will be as good a prosecutor as any in the State, but read: "Hon. J. M. Kash, of Hazel Green, is announced as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney in this district subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Kash is a Democrat, an honest man, a good lawyer and having had considerable experience as a prosecutor, having been County Attorney of Wolfe, he would make an excellent record as Commonwealth's Attorney. Mr. Kash is in the prime of life, active, vigorous and industrious, and it gives us pleasure to bear testimony that his moral qualifications are second to no lawyer in the district."

Mt. Sterling Gazette: As Henry Thomas was returning from this place to his home below North Middletown last Friday, and when near home, he was halted by two convicts, who escaped from the camp near by and who demanded his clothes and money. He agreed to comply with their request, told them he sympathized with them, and asked them to take a drink with him. He handed them a bottle, and while they were engaged in drinking, he quickly drew his pistol and marched them back to camp, and received the reward for their capture. The convicts are at work on the Winchester and Pretty Run Turnpike.

Danville Advocate: We understand a good deal of feeling has been aroused in Harrodsburg over the recent attempt of J. A. Hoes to maltreat Elder C. H. Catton, the pastor of the Christian church in that place. The matter culminated in an indignation meeting of leading citizens, irrespective of religious views. Several resolutions were passed, among them this: "We denounce the assault of the said Hoes as an infamous and cowardly attack and render him unworthy of the respect of the citizens of this community."

LOOK HERE.—Read this, please.—We have carried slow customers until we are loaded down, and it is impossible to continue to credit those whose notes and accounts are past due. We must have pay from you and will take live stock at its value on notes and accounts. Do not call for credit, even if you are good, if you are owing us and have not settled. We mean what we say. J. T. & F. DAY.

Rev. D. H. Fallen preached two sermons at the Christian Church in this place on Sunday last—morning and evening—to good congregation. The discourse at night was on the subject of "Baptism," which Mr. Fallen seemed to understand thoroughly. His next appointment will be the third Sunday in November, which closes his engagement for the year.

Sentinel-Democrat: Rev. Dr. E. O. Gurrant has returned from Estill county, where he dedicated the new and beautiful church at Sand Hill on Sunday. There was a large crowd in attendance, estimated at 400 to 500. This new church was built this summer by the Presbyterians and their brethren of the old Baptist church.

The Synod of the Southern Presbyterian Church in Kentucky will hold its next annual meeting in Mt. Sterling, to-morrow, to continue five days. Presbytery met the 19th inst. at Springfield Church nine miles south of Mt. Sterling.

ATTENTION, MILL MEN.—We have two sets of extra heavy gear bars that we will sell cheap, or exchange for lumber or shingles.

CHILES, THOMPSON & CO., Mt. Sterling, Ky.

LIGHTNING RODS.—Five hundred dollars reward will be paid for any building struck by lightning that is added in a scientific manner with our rods.

W. P. STAGGS & CO.

Been's Liniment is certainly the best combination of remedies for corns, neuralgic pains in the back and side, etc., ever produced. J. T. & F. Day.

Swango Springs.

The Water of Life for Afflicted Humanity.

IRON IS KING.

These springs are located three-quarters of a mile from the beautiful town of Hazel Green. The water contains a larger percentage of iron than any other water known, hence it is the most valuable in the cure of disease—used internally or externally.

Among the many cures which it has effected, it is heart to, and for which this wonderful water is known to be a positive and permanent cure, are the following:

CONSTIPATION, DYSPEPSIA, SKIN DISEASES, SCROFULA, CATARRH, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, NERVOUSNESS, &c.

We append a few of the hundreds of testimonials which have been tendered as to the efficacy of this water in disease.

One lady writes: "I am so thankful to the Great Giver of all Blessings that I tried Swango Springs. Freely do I give all the time and money spent there for the health and strength I now enjoy."
